top reasons to buy in indigo bay

Indigo Bay's recent new owner/developer has invested significant resources over the past two years in infrastructure: roads, lighting and utilities. And stands ready to help in development of the new hotel and resort.

Site is safe and protected: 24-hour security guards at development's gated entrance.

Central location: Only 12 minutes from Princess Juliana Airport; 5 minutes from Philipsburg (main town on Dutch side); 5 minutes from Simpson Bay (shopping, night life); 10 minutes from Marigot (main town on French side); 15 minutes from Grand Case (restaurant mecca on French side).

Government of St. Maarten is firmly behind the development of an upscale resort at Indigo Bay: promises to fast track permitting process and foreign work visas; offer tax abatements; and resources to improve beach and build a marina.

Proven record against hurricanes. Little damage from Hurricane Irma: site is protected from easterly storms by 1,200-foot peaks. Irma hurricane damage was minimal compared to other parts of the island. Steady breeze: cooling breeze from the east swirls over mountains and keeps the hotel site and west side of the bay cool throughout the afternoon.
